Gurpreet Bal is a trusted advisor to technology companies, investors, and founders, providing strategic counsel on corporate and securities matters throughout the business lifecycle.

Gurpreet's clients represent a broad spectrum of the technology sector, including leaders and investors in the artificial intelligence, semiconductors, digital health, fintech, enterprise security, consumer tech, food innovation, and social enterprise, among others. He is known for his practical, forward-thinking approach to complex transactions and possesses a deep understanding of the challenges faced by leading and leading-edge companies, their investors, and supporters.

In the last two decades, Gurpreet has advised clients in hundreds of high-value transactions, representing over US$60 billion in aggregate deal value. His experience spans corporate formation and governance, venture capital, fund formation, restructurings, private equity, and growth equity financings, debt transactions, IPOs, M&A, cross-border transactions, spinoffs, and acquisitions. From guiding an early-stage company through its first term sheet, taking a company public, advising investors in fund-defining investments or steering a company through a strategic acquisition, Gurpreet delivers a unique mix of aligned advocacy with business-minded legal solutions focused toward his client's goals and interests.

Prior to Foley, Gurpreet was a partner in the Silicon Valley offices of two global law firms. Before entering private practice served with the U.S. Attorney's office and as an extern for the U.S. District Court and with the U.S. Attorney's office, both in the Northern District of California. Prior to his legal career, he was an accountant at a Big Four accounting firm.
